LESLIE HAYES INTERIORS

Designed by Leslie Hayes Interiors

Traditional with a Twist

With the cold weather approaching, what could be better than settling down in a room that is warm and cozy, anticipating the holidays and good times ahead with your special someone.

We designed this room for a gentleman client who enjoys listening to music while relaxing. The elegant custom walnut cabinetry was created with the purpose of having a state-of-the-art media system stored within. The vanishing TV is located behind the mirrored panel and is only visible when on. Though the room seems masculine and handsome, the space is just as alluring for the lady of the house.

A silk oriental rug, tufted leather sofa, and elongated silk drapes provide a sense of luxury and comfort. Walls sheathed in grasscloth add glamorous warmth. This room exudes a stately elegance while conveying a subtle sense of adventure. -L.

Table Talk

Setting a table for the holidays is one of the most fun rituals of the season. Not only does it express your personal style, but it can ramp up the excitement and anticipation for the feast to come. Whether you place a simple feather on the Thanksgiving table, or a whole lot of sparkle and dazzle for the winter feasts, you can be sure to have a good time creating it.

Thanksgiving table: Jenn Marianni/Leslie Hayes Interiors
Winter table: Leslie Hayes Interiors, as featured in Philadelphia Style Online

I welcome feedback or comments as I would like to make this newsletter as useful as possible for you. Feel free to pass this along to friends or let me know if you would like me to add someone to the mailing list.

Leslie N. Hayes
Leslie Hayes Interiors