

LESLIE HAYES INTERIORS

Dining Room by Leslie Hayes Interiors. Photo: Drew Callaghan.

Dear Friends,

The room pictured above, designed for a family in Bryn Mawr, has all the elements of a classic dining room yet is completely contemporary. From the crystal chandelier to the beautiful drapery fabric, we incorporated all the components of a traditional dining space yet gave it a completely fresh look.

The chairs are covered in black leather for serious attitude, but are easy to maintain for this busy family of six. The rug has an organic silky feel which exudes chic luxury. On the buffet, we placed two black lamps with metallic accents for extra luster, flanking a modern sunburst mirror. By adding a fresh eye to traditional furniture elements, you are guaranteed that the room will look beautiful for many years to come. -L.

Big and Bold

Be brave and never apprehensive about using large-scale lighting or furnishings to create drama.

We often use oversized lighting above dining tables, not just for the obvious wow factor but also to create atmosphere. The illumination creates its own environment, magically transporting the dining area into a private space. It harkens back to gatherings around the hearth with loved ones, albeit this glow radiates from above.

Room by Leslie Hayes Interiors. Photo: Drew Callaghan.

Up, Down, and Around

Create the unexpected using wallpaper in unusual places. Embellish a ceiling, cover a piece of furniture, or even turn that empty space by the stairs into a mini wonderland. There are so many fabulous wallpapers to choose from!

I welcome feedback or comments as I would like to make this newsletter as useful as possible for you. Feel free to pass this along to friends or let me know if you would like me to add someone to the mailing list.

Leslie N. Hayes
Leslie Hayes Interiors